WHY THE MODERN WORLD AND BUDDHISM NEED EACH OTHER

A socially engaged talk in Melbourne with international author, scholar and Zen teacher David R. Loy.

David Loy is a professor, writer and Zen teacher who has articulated the idea of institutionalised greed, hatred and delusion and developed a modern Buddhist engagement with our collective contemporary suffering. His seminal books include the acclaimed Money Sex War Karma: Notes for a Buddhist Revolution, The Great Awakening: A Buddhist Social Theory and his latest publication, A new Buddhist Path: Enlightenment, Evolution and Ethics in the Modern World.
